33,000 MEN IN PACKING PLANTS QUIT

Ask Withdrawal of State Troops and Police Guards at Plants

NO TRADING TODAY

Negroes Returned to the Packing Plants for Work on Yesterday

BULLETIN
CHICAGO—Decision to recall the troops from the stockyards and riot district here, whose presence was one of the causes alleged for the general stockyards strike, was announced this afternoon.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO—A general strike of 33,000 employees at the packing plants in the stock yards began at 9 o'clock this morning. The action followed the decision of the stock yards labor council last night to call a strike unless state troops and police guards were immediately withdrawn from the plants. The strike was precipitated by the return of 5,000 negroes to work yesterday.

The dispute, according to labor leaders, is over the employment of non-union negroes rather than race.

TO LIVESTOCK DEALERS
CHICAGO—Livestock commission dealers in Chicago today sent word to producers in the west to suspend until further notice all shipments to this city.

The men walked out quietly and no disturbances were reported.

There was practically no trading in live stock here today. Even before the beginning of the strike the buyers for the packing houses held off awaiting developments.

When negro workmen returned to work in the packing houses yesterday 500 policemen and several hundred deputy sheriffs were assigned to the inclosure, while detachments of soldiers were moved from the scene of the recent race riots to the exterior of the yards. The white workers objected to the presence of guards although their leaders said they had no objection to working with the negroes. Their objection to working under surveillance resulted in a meeting of representatives of the men and the decision to walk out unless the guards were removed.

Calm prevails in the "Black Belt" scene of the race riots of last week. Officers in command of the soldiers report that not even a minor disturbance had taken place between the whites and blacks during the night. In the absence of the mayor, his secretary said guards would continue at the yards as long as there was likelihood of danger to life and property.

Officers of the stock yards labor council said today that of 12,000 negroes employed by the different packers, 3,000 are union men and walked out with the white workers. It is said that the 9,000 non-union negroes remained at work under police guard.

At 11 o'clock the strike caused a shut down in nearly every plant and the non-union negroes left in large numbers as there was no work for them.

Martin Murphy, president of the stockyards labor council today, called an open air mass-meeting of Union stockyards workers for 8 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to consider the situation.

80 Shopmen Walk Out Today; Men May Defy Wilson Request

Northwestern Machinists, Boiler Makers and Repair Men Out on Strike

CHICAGO—Forty additional passenger trains were cancelled today by Chicago railroads as a result of the strike of railway shopmen.

Chicago and Northwestern shopmen, machinists, boiler makers, pipe fitters, blacksmiths, helpers and some of the boiler washers and callers, numbering 40 walked out at the Madison shops this morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Car repair men and helpers numbering about 40 followed at 12 o'clock.

With Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul shopmen and car repair men already out, Madison now has 220 railroaders on strike.

Northwestern employees went out this morning following receipt of a message from the union headquarters at Baraboo. All shops of the division are now on strike, the local workmen being last to go out.

"With the discontinuance of four passenger trains we will be able to maintain our service for several days yet," said F. J. Zoell, general passenger agent here this morning. "The strike takes out better than a hundred men from the local shop."

Shipments on the Northwestern are accepted subject to delay. Carload lots for any point of the local division will not be accepted. Word from Chicago came today stating that all goods accepted must be endorsed as follows: "This freight accepted subject to delay account of strike."

J. H. MacDonald, general superintendent of the Milwaukee road here, stated this morning that the road would be able to maintain full service for some time.

C. O. Bradshaw, general superintendent of the Milwaukee road at Milwaukee, stated that "there will be no tieup of freight or passenger traffic."

He says the road is in a position to maintain normal service for a period of sixty days regardless of the strike.

Effects of the order from national union officials at Washington, ordering all strikers to return to work pending negotiations over the wage controversy, are not known here. Late this afternoon, striking workmen of either road had not returned.

Milwaukee To Stay Out
MILWAUKEE, Wis. — "Only in the event that our demands are acceded to will the men who walked out of the West Milwaukee shops of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Ry. return to work," said Otto Paul Ry. representative.

A. Jirakovic, publicity representative and authorized to speak for the allied crafts.

August Lawrence, representing the Chicago and Northwestern shopmen, simply said he did not believe the men would return to work until the wage demands had been met.

SAN DIEGO, Cal. — A speech, specially prepared and handed to the press in advance by Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander of the new Pacific fleet, remains in his pocket undelivered today. Admiral Rodman announced to the banqueters when called upon to speak that permission to deliver his prepared address had been refused by the secretary of the navy.

Secretary Daniels was but two seats away from the admiral. No reason was advanced by Admiral Rodman for the ban on his speech. Neither was one forthcoming from Secretary Daniels.

President Wilson Says Men Must Return to Work Before Action is Taken

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO—John D. Saunders, secretary of the Chicago Council of the Federated Railway Shopmen's union, announced today that the executive board of the organization was considering President Wilson's demand that the 300,000 strikers return to work before their request for higher wages will be taken up by the government. He said the board expects to reach a decision by 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. At that time, it is said, the union will make a formal reply to the demand made by President Wilson.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON—Director General Hines today awaited word that all striking shopmen had returned to work before undertaking to carry out President Wilson's instructions to settle the wage controversy on its merits. The telegraph system of the railroad administration was put at the disposal of the union offices and peremptory orders that the men go back to the job went out to 500 local chairmen.

Until the men have resumed work railroad administration officials said they would not discuss the proceeding to be employed. At the shopmen's reasons for wanting a 25 per cent increase have been considered thoroughly by the board of railroad wages and working conditions, which divided three to three; it was believed possible that the evidence in that case would be put immediately before the director general.

Other unions have demands pending however, which will necessitate the presentation of evidence and to hear this a new board may be constituted or the old board enlarged to 12 in accordance with suggestions of union men.

Mr. Hines is understood to consider that two main points are involved. First—How much has the cost of living increased beyond the cost of wages paid in other industries for the same class of work.

The situation in regard to the striking railway employees became serious on Thursday that President Wilson took personal charge of negotiations and, after a long conference with Director General of Railroads Hines, wrote a communication to the latter in which he authorized Mr. Hines to proceed with the question of wage adjustments through the authorized national representatives of the employees, but only in the event that the employees, now on strike, returned to their work.

Mr. Hines notified the unions immediately that the railroad administration was ready to take up the wages being paid in other industries for the same class of work.

Richter and others of Milwaukee against several alleged combinations. This complaint has also been filed with United States District Attorney Sawyer of the eastern district.

The following corporations are cited in the complaint:

- American Seed Manufacturing Assn.
- American Standard Food Assn.
- Brewers' Assn.
- Concrete Builders' Assn.
- Metal Trades and Foundry Bureau.
- Milwaukee Commerce Assn.
- Milwaukee Milk Producers' Assn.
- Milwaukee Retail Grocers' Assn.

The complaint which is signed by P. J. Zisch as complainant and A. W. Got the Facts.
"It is charged further that the organizations have fixed the prices of commodities and limited and fixed the amount for quantities to be manufactured, produced and sold in this state and also fixed and caused to be fixed the standard or figure by which its price to the public is controlled in violation of the Wisconsin statutes."

"The attorney general's office already is in possession of a great volume of testimony bearing on the present investigation and which throws light on some of the charges preferred against corporations involved in an investigation by former Asst. EXTRA STRANGER IN ATTACK ON YOUNG GIRL

Esther Beach in a Panic Today When Miss Bents is Attacked

Esther Beach was thrown into a state of fury this afternoon at 2 o'clock when Virginia Bents, 11-year old daughter of Dr. A. L. Bents of this city was attacked by a stranger who has been following the carnival company which is giving a show during the carnival.

When discovered the man pulled a knife to fight off any pursuers and managed to make an escape through the woods. A searching party was hot on the trail a few minutes later.

Officials have been notified and immediately took launches down the Yahara river to cut off any possible escape.

It was thought first that the man was a member of the carnival company, but officials discredited the account. He has been hanging around the beach for some days.

Dr. Bents and his family have been living in a cottage at Esther Beach.

As the assailant was seized by a floor walker, he shot himself. He is dying in a local hospital.

WOLFE CAN'T PASS H.C.L. BUCK TO CITY

—MAYOR SAYLE

Mayor George C. Sayle can't see how United States District Attorney A. C. Wolfe is going to "pass the buck" to the city fathers or any other civic organization in his war against the high cost of living which the federal attorney announced yesterday.

Not City's Business
"The profiteers themselves are the only ones who can organize to bring down the cost of living. I look to the government for results," Mayor Sayle declared this morning when asked if the council would likely take any action along the lines of forming committees of prominent citizens and of retailers and wholesalers to investigate high prices and co-operate with the department of justice in its work, as Attorney Wolfe has suggested.

"The city hasn't the authority to demand of the dealers that their books be opened for inspection and the government has," continued the mayor. "It is attacking the problem at the wrong end to ask Madison people to look into prices around here. We have no control over the supply of goods here. The trouble must be traced to the sources and those sources could not be got at by an investigation instituted in Madison."

Simon's Car Found; Taken by Joyriders

Police located the automobile stolen from Emanuel Simon, of Simon Brothers State St. grocers, deserted at 601 Riverside drive. The car was taken from Esther Beach late Wednesday night. It was in good condition when found.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON — Addressing congress today and proposing remedies to check the high cost of living, President Wilson declared that existing laws were inadequate and that high prices were not justified by shortage of supplies, present or prospective, but were created in many cases "artificially and deliberately" by "vicious practices."

The president recommended that the food control act be extended to peace time operation and that congress exclude from interstate as well as intrastate shipment goods which did not comply with its provisions.

The president also recommended that the food law be provided with a substantial penalty for profiteering and that a cold storage law be enacted modeled after the law in New Jersey by which a time limit be placed on cold storage. He also recommended that all goods released from cold storage be marked with the price prevailing when they went into storage. He further recommended that goods in interstate commerce be marked with the prices at which they left the producer. "It would serve as a useful example," the president suggested, if congress enact legislation to control the situation in the District of Columbia where it has unlimited authority. Further the president recommended a federal licensing system for corporations engaged in interstate commerce which would embody regulations to insure competitive selling "and prevent unconscionable profits in the method of marketing." He also urged prompt passage of the law pending to control security issues.

Making an appeal for the ratification of the peace treaty to turn the country from a war basis, the president said:

"There can be no peace prices as long as our whole financial and economic system is on a war basis."

"A process has set in," the president told congress, "which is likely, unless something is done, to push prices and rents and the whole cost of living higher and yet higher in a vicious cycle to which there is no logical or natural end."

Some of the methods by which these prices are produced are already illegal, some of them are criminal and those who employ them will be energetically proceeded against; but others have not yet been brought under the law and should be dealt with at once by legislation."

Demands for increases of wages accompanying the rising costs of living the president said, were justified. "If there be no other means of enabling men to live."

"While there is any possibility that the peace terms may be changed," said the president referring to his plea for early ratification of the treaty so that the country may be turned back from a war basis, "or may be held long in abeyance or may not be enforced because of divisions of opinion among the powers associated against Germany, it is idle to look for permanent relief."

Surplus stocks of food and clothing in the hands of the government, the president said, would be sold and hoards of food in private hands would be forced out under the existing provisions of the food control law.

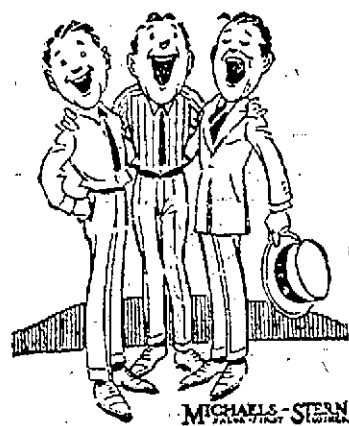

Dealers eager to reap a harvest of rising prices who had accumulated hoards, the president said, would now "see the disadvantage as well as the danger of holding off from the new processes of distribution."

The normal operation of the laws of supply and demand, the president said, had been set at naught in the cases of many necessary commodities. He cited the figures of the federal trades commission showing rising prices in the face of greater stocks of food than were on hand in the country a year ago.

The pending bill to regulate securities issue, the president referred to as a "measure which would do much to stop speculation and to prevent the fraudulent methods of promotion by which our people are annually fleeced of many millions of hard earned money."

By asking for the remedies he proposed, the president called on congress and the public to deal with the subject deliberately. He appealed.

7 CENT FARES AT OSHKOSH

Railroad Commission Grants Increase—Case Considered Over a Year

A decision handed down by the Railroad Commission Thursday authorizing the Eastern Wisconsin Electric company to raise its street car cash fare in the city of Oshkosh from five to seven cents and to sell scrip tickets, calling for six rides, for 35 cents and coupon books, good for 50 rides, at $2.50. The matter has been under consideration for over a year, since last September when the company petitioned for a six-cent fare on the strength of a deficit of $54,072.15, only $4,976.41 of which was lost in the city of Oshkosh.

An operating expense of 16.3 cents per mile was the figure set by the company for running street cars in Oshkosh. A comparison showed that the Madison Railway Company sets its operating expense at 17.6 cents, and La Crosse at 14.3 cents.

Fifteen one-man cars, which cost $50,000, are now in use in Oshkosh. The city at first fought the increase, claiming that five cents was even too much for the poor service given.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS, TRY PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Dittro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

When one stops to consider the host of thin people who are searching continually for some method by which they may increase their flesh to normal proportions by the fitting out of ugly hollows, the rounding off of protruding angles with the attendant bloom of health and attractiveness, it is no wonder that many and varied suggestions along this line appear from time to time in public print.

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals it is a well-known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorus in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition. Experiments on humans and animals by many scientists have demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorus becomes nervous, sickly and thin. A noted author and professor in his book, "Chemistry and Food Nutrition," published in 1918, says: "It is a fact that the amount of phosphorus required for the normal nutrition of man is seriously underestimated in many of our standard text books."

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorus may now be met by the use of an organic phosphate known throughout English speaking countries as Dittro-Phosphate. Through the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue the phosphoric content when absorbed in the amount normally required by nature soon produces a welcome change in our body and mind. Nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy, and the whole body soon loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing. It is sold by C. H. Naffs in Madison and all good druggists.

CAUTION—While Dittro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.—Adv.

ELEPHANT SUBSTITUTES FOR OLD APPLE TREE

And So Fair Rider With Big Circus Executes An Act Not Billed on Program

How would you like to let "the old cat die" from the jaws of a six-ton elephant? According to Victoria Davenport, prettiest of the scores of pretty ladies who ride on the program of the mammoth Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows, it is the greatest sport imaginable. The fair equestrienne performs the stunt with Baldy, who, next to the famous "Alice," is the mightiest of all the great herd of elephants.

Miss Davenport has not gotten over the days when one of the greatest joys in life was to swing from the bough of an old apple tree. But apple trees are not often found on circus lots, and so she hitches an improvised swing into Baldy's mouth. As she swings back and forth the faithful fellow gives forth grunts which Miss Davenport will tell you is the pachyderm way of singing "Bye-bye Baby, in the Tree-Top." In the main tent, during the performance, Baldy is one of the leading actors in that greatest of innovations in animal subjugation—the assembling in "pyramid" and other formations of six times as many elephants as have ever before been presented at one time.

This enormous elephant act will be seen when the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows exhibit here. The program will open with a gigantic pageant. This brilliant presentation, enlisting hundreds of characters, depicting the best-loved tales from nursery and fairy-tale lore, will be followed by more than two hours of arctic displays which will present the pick of all the talent that has in past years made the Ringling

"Baldy" and Victoria Davenport at Play

Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circuses the foremost amusement institutions in America. In addition will be seen acts which, released by the termination of the war, have never before been seen in America. The circus is to exhibit here Saturday, August 23.

EARLY ANSWERS SHOW SOLDIERS SEEK SCHOOLING

Questionnaires Still Being Mailed as Replies Come Favoring Free Education Bill

Although the questionnaires are still being mailed to Wisconsin soldiers at the rate of about 10,000 per day, the first answers are being received by the Adjutant General from which a survey will be made to ascertain the number of soldiers who would like to take advantage of an education as provided by the Nye bill.

A majority of the answers received so far declare in favor of the Nye educational provisions. It is too early, however, to make any prediction as to the number who would take advantage of the opportunity offered by the state.

Gov. E. L. Philipp vetoed the Nye bill which provided for the education of all honorable discharged soldiers, sailors and marines of Wisconsin who could pass the entrance examinations at the state university, Stout Institute, the State Mining School or any institution where an S. A. T. C. camp was established in 1918.

Under supervision of the bill the state would pay tuition fees and allow the student soldier $30 per month while completing his education for not to exceed four years.

The questionnaires are being sent to approximately 100,000 returned soldiers, sailors and marines. They are asked to designate if they would take advantage of the opportunity to procure an education at the expense of the state; the extent of their education to date, whether or not they could enter the university, normal school or any of the other institutions where the S. A. T. C. was established in 1918 as a regular student or whether they would prefer vocational education; and what institution they would prefer to attend.

When the questionnaires are returned the State Board of Education will make a survey of the situation and if a sufficient number desire to take advantage of such opportunity Gov. Philipp will call a special session to the legislature early in September to enact a bill which will take care of each class.

If the early answers to the questionnaires are any criterion of the whole, several thousand of the soldiers will want to secure the education at the expense of the state and it may be necessary for the legislature to not only increase the appropriation for the various state institutions to care for them, provide additional teachers, etc., but provide funds to pay the tuition for those who prefer to attend the denominational or private schools, as well as the $30 a month for each soldier which may require as high as two or three million dollars per year for the next four years.

Under the provisions of the Nye bill a soldier could not receive both the bonus and the free education.

SCHOOL FORUMS DO BIG GOOD

That the school societies which have been organized in the rural and state graded schools of Wisconsin during the past year have come to be a part of the curriculum of the schools of the state was the statement of W. E. Larson, rural school inspector in an address before the county superintendents and teachers convention here this morning.

"These school societies, which have already been organized in over 4,000 schools of the state, are doing a real service," said Mr. Larson. "By this means the children in the schools are given practical training in citizenship. Boys are taught to play ball by playing ball; and the pupils will be taught the duties of citizenship by playing citizens. The school societies are organized by the election of pupils to office and affairs of the society are carried on in a parliamentary manner. Over 4,000 schools of the state now have organizations of this character. Eau Claire county has a record of 100 per cent with every school district organized. During the coming year the work of these societies will be extended more generally throughout the state and will become a part of the school curriculum."

Supt. Ellen B. McDonald told of the work of the reading circles and Supt. C. P. Cary told the teachers of the duties and responsibilities which rested upon them. The meeting ends today.

FAMINE IN SUGAR HAS HIT THE CITY

Many Dealers, Unable to Get Supply for People of Madison

SIMON ON SITUATION

Says Scarcity is Due to Refinery Strikes and Freight Tieups

That the sugar famine in Madison is not a serious one and will probably be of short duration, is the opinion of Jerry Simon of Simon Bros., grocers.

"The shortage is largely due to strikes in the refineries in Pennsylvania and in the cities around New York," declared Mr. Simon this morning, "and the freight conditions, owing to the strikes are very bad. We haven't any white sugar just now, but expect some soon and I believe that most of Madison's grocers are supplied for about a week."

Mr. Simon believes that relief will also come when beet sugar begins to make its appearance in a couple of weeks.

Piper Bros. are entirely out of sugar today and while they will be able to get a very small quantity in a day or so, the situation at their store will be much the same as today, owing to the demand for sugar in their bakery. Most all of the other Madison grocers are in much the same position, and sugar is again being doled out to customers by the pound or at the most two pounds.

Gold, Wells and Blackburn are receiving sugar almost daily, but in such small quantities that they can distribute only a few pounds at a time to dealers. The same is true of Klenner & Co.

People have been buying sugar in unusually large quantities, said Mr. Piper, a condition due largely to fear of a famine, predicted so much in newspapers.

FLOUR $11.25 TO CONSUMER IS U. S. PLAN

Grain Corporation Would Sell to Confine Retailer to $1.25 Profit

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK—Details of the United States grain corporation plan to sell flour at $10 a barrel were made public today by Julius H. Barnes, United States wheat director. Under the plan restrictions are placed on the price to be charged by wholesalers, jobbers and retailers.

The flour will be sold in 140 pound sacks on a basis of $10. Urges Wheat Price Repeal

WASHINGTON—Repeal of the government price guarantee for wheat to enable farmers to secure higher prices was urged at a special meeting today of the senate agriculture committee. Action was deferred. Senators Norris, chairman, Gronna and other committee members said the wheat price guarantee law has not been carried out.

Mr. Atkinson told the committee the farmer would receive an average of only $1.50 per bushel for wheat this year. He and Senator Gronna declared that had the government not fixed the price, farmers would receive much more than the guarantee because of the prospective wheat shortage and world demand.

CLAIM FORGER CARRIED MASK

Burglar Kerchief Alleged Taken From Person of Stoughton Criminal

Arrested for forgery, the search of belongings of Helmer Scriven of Stoughton revealed the mask of a holdup man, the police report.

Folded so as to be tied behind the head and to hang so as to cover the face, a large blue polka dot handkerchief with jagged holes for the eyes, made up the "mask."

Scriven, yet a young man, pleaded guilty to the forgery charge, admitting that he wrote himself a check for $42.50, signing the name of Gustave Gitterson of Stoughton. The check was on the Citizens State bank of Stoughton.

He is confined in the county jail awaiting further investigation. Some time ago Scriven served a jail sentence for collecting funds in the name of the Red Cross. That society, however, failing to receive any of the collection which amounted to some $100.

ed to merchants and others to deal fairly with the people and to housewives to exercise "a greater vigilance, a more thoughtful economy."

Leaders of organized labor, the president said he was sure, "will presently yield to a second sober thought and like the great mass of their associates think and act like Americans."

The president warned congress, however, that no complete and immediate remedy was to be found in legislation or immediate action. Processes of supply and demand would not operate of themselves while the country was neither at peace nor war.

"While there is no peace of mind, there can be no energy of endeavor," said he. "Politically, socially, economically, the world is on the operating table, and it has not been possible to administer any anesthetic."

"There can be no confidence in industry, no incalculable basis for credits, no confident buying or systematic selling, no certain prospect of employment, no normal restoration of business, no hopeful attempt at reconstruction or the proper reassembling of the dislocated elements of enterprise until peace has been established; and so far as may be, guaranteed."

This the president said, in connection with his reminder that the peace treaty should speedily be ratified.

Speaking of retail prices the president said:

"There can be no little doubt that retailers are in part—some times in large part—responsible for exorbitant prices."

It was practically the president said, to supply the public through established governmental agencies and through publicity with information on which it might judge what profits should be. Congress should provide necessary funds for these agencies, the president said.

The world, of course, the president reminded congress, must pay for the vast wastage of the war, and take the results of food fields returned to battle grounds.

At the same time it must help Europe back to her normal state.

"We, and we almost alone, hold the world steady" said the president.

Yank Tennis Shark Takes Jap's Title

NEWPORT, R. I.—William M. Johnston of San Francisco today defeated Ichiya Kumagae, Champion of Japan, 6-1; 6-1; 6-3, in the semi-final round of the Invitation Tennis tournament at the Newport Casino. The Californian played a machine-like game, and did not give the Japanese a chance to keep his racket up, the style of play which placed Kumagae in the semi-finals.

CHARLES HARRIS COULD HARDLY WALK UPSTAIRS

Duluth Man Gains 26 Pounds and Ends Rheumatism by Taking Tanlac

"This Tanlac has put me in shape so where I have actually gained twenty-six pounds," said Charles L. Harris, a well known lumber man, living at the Palmer Hotel, 108 West First street, Duluth, Minnesota, in an interesting interview, recently. Mr. Harris was foreman for Henry & Sons of Saginaw, Michigan, for many years. He has made Duluth his home for the past twenty-one years and is popular with all who know him.

"For the past three or four years," he explained, "I have been in the worst kind of a fix on account of rheumatism and stomach trouble. During the past winter I got so crippled up with the rheumatism in my legs and knees that I could hardly get around. It was difficult for me to walk up stairs to my room. My ankles would swell and my legs and knees got so stiff and painful that it was agony for me to get my feet up from one step to the next. I had no appetite and could not eat anything without having a bad pain in the pit of my stomach afterwards. I not only dropped down in weight, but I lost about all my strength and energy and just got so nervous and miserable that I could not sleep more than an hour the whole night, and would get up in the mornings completely tired out. I have lost sixty-three pounds during the past two or three years and I just seemed to be steadily losing ground."

"During the Winter and Spring I was right flat down and felt that unless I could get something to set me right I would soon play out altogether. Finally I got Tanlac, seeing it so highly recommended by those who had tried it for such troubles, and after using it a few days my stomach got in shape to where I could eat most anything without having a pain or an uncomfortable feeling, and then I commenced to pick up rapidly in every way. The pain and swelling soon left my knees and ankles and my legs limbered up so I could get around without difficulty. I regained twenty-six pounds of my lost weight in about two months time and my old time strength and energy came back to me. Well, Tanlac simply built me up to where I felt as fine as I ever did in my life and I am still feeling that way although it has been two months or more since it straightened me up. Tanlac is the only medicine ever helped me and it strikes me as being a boon to humanity."

Tanlac is sold in Madison by W. A. Lackey & Son, in Deerfield by W. A. Perkins, in Middleton by Dr. A. M. Tekam, in Sun Prairie, in Black Earth by F. S. Drake, and in Waubesa by O. N. Falk & Son.

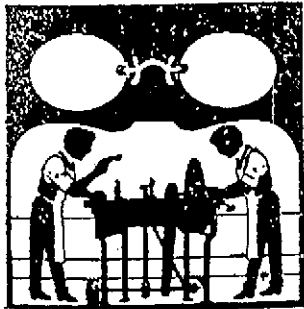

MISHAPS MANY IN N. Y. STRIKE

NEW YORK—The first death as a result of the strike occurred today on the Williamsburg Bridge when a pedestrian was struck by a motor truck laden with workers. A number of women in the truck fainted. Traffic congestion was worse than on the two preceding days and automobile mishaps were many.

It was announced at the offices of the transit company that from 20 to 22 per cent of the elevated and subway trains were running.

A Culver "L" train was attacked and the motormen and guards were roughly handled.

No disorders were reported when the early crush began. The police, it was announced, were prepared for any emergency and on the few surface cars, elevated and subway trains operated, patrolmen were on guard.

WOMEN'S WAGE ORDER HOLDS

"No Postponement" is Announcement of Industrial Commission Today

There will be no postponement of the date of the enforcement of the minimum wage order, it was decided today by the Industrial Commission. A hearing upon this subject was held on Monday at Madison before the commission and the advisory wage board.

Tips Not Wages
The commission has also announced further interpretations of the minimum wage order after consultation with the advisory wage board. The matters dealt with in these new interpretations are the counting of tips to employees in hotels and restaurants, the application of the minimum wage order to persons under sentence of probation, and the determination of the length of the learning period for intermittent workers. Upon these points the commission has announced the following interpretations of the minimum wage order:

Tips received from patrons cannot be counted as a part of the wage in computing the amount due under the minimum wage order. For intermittent workers, 160 hours of work shall be regarded as equivalent to one month of continuous employment in computing the learning period under paragraph 2 of the minimum wage order.

Phone Girls' Case
A special hearing will be held at a date subsequently to be determined upon relative to the application of the minimum wage order to telephone exchanges. In small exchanges, the operators are able to sleep a considerable part of the night and consequently it would not be fair to count the entire time they are nominally on duty. To determine what is a fair wage for such night operators, the Industrial Commission is now writing all telephone companies asking them to conduct a "peg count" for the period of one month, so that the commission may have information as to the number of calls which are received at various hours during the day and night. After this "peg count" is completed, the commission will conduct a hearing upon this general subject and will issue special orders with reference to the period of time for which telephone companies must pay during the night hours.

Nervousness and Headaches Caused by Acid-Stomach

There is a much closer connection between the stomach and brain than most people imagine. It is because of this close connection that indigestion, flatulence, sour, gassy stomach and other stomach troubles—all of which are signs of acid stomach—are so often followed by severe attacks of headache, splitting headaches.

Nervousness, sleeplessness, irritability, mental depression, melancholia and many other disorders which affect the brain can also nearly always be traced to the same source—acid-stomach.

So often you hear people say "I am nervous I think I'll fly to pieces," "I never get a good night's sleep any more, my nerves are all on edge," "Little do they dream that acid stomach is the direct cause of their troubles because very often there are no pains in the stomach at all. So you see, you can't always judge an acid-stomach condition by the way your stomach itself feels."

If you are weak, nervous, unfit—if you are not up to your old time form—just take your accustomed dose of EATONIC and you will find that it is not acid-stomach that is robbing you of health, strength and vigor. Get a big box of EATONIC—the wonderful modern medicine that so quickly gets an acid stomach to rights. It is in the form of pleasant tasting tablets that you can eat like a bit of candy. EATONIC rids the stomach of excess acid. Brings instant relief from indigestion, heartburn, sour belching, food repeating, bloating and gas and makes the stomach cool, pure, sweet and comfortable.

Dentists warn us against the bad effects of acid mouth, pointing out that the acid eats through the enamel of the teeth, causing them to decay. You can easily imagine then the amount of damage excess acid will cause to the delicate organization of the stomach.

Thousands of people are using EATONIC and the results obtained are so remarkable as to be almost unbelievable. Yet their letters of gratitude, many of which are received daily, prove absolutely that EATONIC does all and even more than we claim. The medical profession, too, recognizes the great value of this wonderful remedy.

A learned Michigan doctor wrote recently: "I have had such wonderful success with EATONIC that I want every one to know how quickly it will neutralize the acidity of the stomach (acid-stomach) and the stomach will soon be sweet and normal again, and the sick man well and happy once more."

So be sure to get a big box of EATONIC from your druggist today. If it fails in any way to give you the kind of satisfaction you want, take it back—we will refund your money. He doesn't want one penny of your money unless EATONIC helps you.

Itching, Scratching Skin Diseases That Burn Like Flames of Fire

Here is a Sensible Treatment That Gets Prompt Results.

For real, downright, harrassing, torment, very few disorders can match so-called skin diseases, such as Eczema, Tetter, Boils, eruptions, scaly irritations and similar troubles, notwithstanding the use of salves, lotions, washes and other treatments applied externally to the irritated parts.

No one ever heard of a person being afflicted with any form of skin disease whose blood was in good condition. Therefore, it is but logical to conclude that the proper method of treatment for pimples, rashes, sores, boils, rough red and itchy skin is to purify the blood and remove the tiny germs of pollution that break through and manifest their presence on the surface of the skin.

People in all parts of the country have written us how they were completely rid of every trace of these disorders by the use of S. S. S. the matchless, purely vegetable blood purifier. S. S. S. goes direct to the center of the blood supply, and strengthens and builds up the circulation, giving a clear and healthy complexion that indicates a healthy condition of the skin. SAYS GOVERNOR HAS PROTECTED PROFITEERS

Sudden Anxiety of Executive Looks Strange With Recent Attitude

MILWAUKEE—A scathing denunciation of Gov. Emanuel Philipp and his sudden anxiety to help reduce the high cost of living was made Tuesday by Assemblyman Frank Metcalfe, who said Philipp was trying to throw dust in people's eyes so they could not see the inequities of his record in connection with the legislature of 1919.

Metcalfe charged that Philipp did all in his power to protect the profiteers, especially the profiteers in foods.

"Gov. Philipp and his legislative henchmen notoriously blocked everything that tended to interfere with private profits," said Metcalfe. "Practically all the measures to prevent big middlemen from standing between the producers and the consumers in order to exact tribute and boost prices were killed by hook or crook, if not by the assembly, then by Philipp's veto. The governor is beginning to step lively because the people are getting to the point where the endurance is breaking."

Proof of Insincerity
"The governor's veto of the Burhop bill to permit municipalities to go into the milk business is a good sample, and alone is enough to show the insincerity of his sudden wish to help the dear people."

"A campaign has been carried on to educate city people in the use of milk, because it is the most perfect of foods. The health departments suggest that milk be fed to children because necessary to their growth and health. Yet in the face of this fact the price of milk has gone up, and if a family with four children requires a quart each day, it means 52 cents and within the last month the price of ice has also gone up, making it almost impossible for average wage workers to buy ice to preserve the milk. Very few families are able to buy a quart of milk for each child at the present price. A saving of at least 3 cents a quart could have been saved if the municipalities would engage in the handling of milk."

Failed by Veto Route
"Yet the governor, to protect his friends in the dairy monopoly in Milwaukee, vetoed the Burhop bill which would have allowed cities to protect the people from artificial prices."

"The governor, like all corporation men, stands true to his colors and is always on the job to protect his class all along the line," Metcalfe added. "In 1917 he was rather reluctant to sign the Metcalfe bill that provided that municipalities could operate fuel and ice plants. In his message to the legislature he went into all the musty records on that past in order to point out that a law of that kind might be held unconstitutional. In singling out the Burhop bill, I do not want to make it appear as an exception. It simply was part of the general manipulation of legislation. Every effort was made to kill bills that would work against Armour or Swift or the rest or any other crowd who wax wealthy by screwing the farmers down and then selling the farmers' product at sky prices to the helpless people."

Look Into the Record

"The record of Gov. Philipp's crowd in the 1919 legislature should be interesting to the people at this time. The legislature has just finished a seven-month session and the governor is now contemplating calling an extra session to undo some of the wrongs that were done to the people, fearing the people's wrath. He would do something for the people and possibly help the profiteers out of their present dilemma. "The Socialists of the legislature time and again warned the legislature as to what was being done by the profiteers and big business, but were cried down as Bolsheviks, agitators, unloyal and un-American by the Republican and Democratic floor leaders of the legislature. It was a Republican legislature by an overwhelming majority and the Republicans have made their record. It was the most brazenly open protection of the profiteers by any legislature that has met for years. Every citizen should look up the record of every legislator and inquire into the veto of 40 bills by the governor, as most of them were of vital importance to the people."

Railways in Hard Shape in Germany

BERLIN—At the coal conference yesterday the Prussian minister of railways announced that the railways had only sufficient coal for a week or a fortnight, and that a great restriction in passenger traffic therefore must be expected. The minister of public works today ordered a sharp reduction in the number of express trains.

MABEL BALLIN AND RALPH GRAVES IN MAURICE TOURNEUR'S "THE WHITE HEATHER" NOW SHOWING AT NEW STRAND

NEW STRAND.
In "The White Heather," which is now showing at the New Strand, Mr. Tourneur unfolds the scenes of the Drury Lane melodrama in a series of genre studies of remarkable beauty. There is Scotch mist in these pictures, and the wind on the dunes, and the scent of the wild Heather. Scotland, however, is the background for but a part of the story. The action centers around the recovery of a marriage record from the hull of a sunken yacht, "The White Heather."

MAJESTIC
Taylor Holmes, a driver of one of New York's oceangoing taxicabs, will present George Agnew Chamberlain's magazine story, "TAXI," in screen form at the Majestic for the last times today. WHAT IS THE GAME?

THERE is strange news coming out of Hungary these days. The other day the government of Bela Kun fell. The meager dispatches that came through London telling of the event announced that American officers in charge of the distribution of food in that area had taken a part in the overthrow of the government.

It was then announced that a government of the workers had been set up in Budapest. Immediately it was announced that the chances for this government lasting for any length of time were small.

Yesterday came news that the government of the workers had been overthrown by Archduke Joseph. Today the government in Hungary is headed by Archduke Joseph.

The question that interests Americans is this:

Are American armies and food supplies being used in Europe in the restoration of monarchy? Was, after all, our talk about democracy mere chatter? Are we, above all nations, interested in the perpetuation of a monarchical form of government in Europe?

Do the events that have taken place in Hungary explain the policy of this government in Russia? Are we secretly conspiring to restore monarchy in that country also? Does our support of the czar's old friend, Admiral Kolchak, indicate that our government wants the old imperialistic regime established in Russia?

Is American food being used in Europe as a bribe to compel the peoples of Europe to establish the kind of government that the imperialists, who dominated the peace conference want them to establish?

The whole proceedings look mighty strange when paralleled with many of the pretty things that have been uttered by our president on the subject of self determination.

PROF. COMMONS' WORDS

"WE HAVE not got sand enough to tax ourselves to pay off these debts. * * * Congress is afraid to tax the people."

These were the words uttered by Prof. John R. Commons before the supervising teachers' convention the other day in discussing the cause of the high cost of living. Prof. Commons argued that inflation has cheapened money and that if we would take stern measures along taxation lines that this inflation could be reduced.

Prof. Commons is quite right when he says that we haven't the sand to tax ourselves. Prof. Commons probably will recall what happened to men in the last two years who did have "the sand" to stand up for a larger proportion of taxation and a smaller proportion of bond issue. What happened to the small band in the United States senate who prophesied that too large a proportion of bonded indebtedness would bring inflation and high prices?

Prof. Commons will recall that the profiteers and the profiteering newspapers set upon these men like wolves and accused them of being "opposed to Liberty bonds and thereby stabbing our boys over there in the back."

And, by the way, how much "sand" was in evidence out in the university faculty when this was taking place? How many voices were raised in the economics faculty for a greater proportion of taxes in the financing of the war? Where were Prof. Commons and Ely and Scott and Ross at that time? As economists and sociologists they surely knew that the tremendous bond issues would bring just the condition that is shaking the country today. Is it recorded that their voices were ever raised in protest?

As a matter of fact a petition which was favorably acted upon by the economics faculty of the University of Minnesota for the application of the excess profits principle in the financing of the war was not acted upon here. It was pigeon-holed.

The record of the economists and the sociologists in the faculty of the University of Wisconsin on this question is one that will not be pleasing to contemplate in the years to come. It isn't in the record that the profiteers ever had anything to fear from the university.

The "sand" pile out on the hill dwindled considerably, too.

MR. WOLFE'S PROMISES

WE ONLY hope that United States District Attorney Wolfe will live up to his interviews in dealing with the profiteers.

If he will exhibit one-half the energy in dealing with the profiteers that he did in dealing with people hauled up under the espionage law in the last two years he will be performing a service that will meet with the applause of many people.

THE INTERNATIONAL COPPER

A SUCCESSOR FOR GOMPERS?

Intimated A. F. of L. President Not in 1920 Race—Suggest Chicago Man

By GEORGE P. WEST

NEW YORK — With Secretary Nockels, of the Chicago Federation of Labor, telling all and sundry that John Fitzpatrick, president of the federation, will be a candidate for president of the American Federation of Labor, at next year's convention, there seems no good reason why this highly important bit of news should not be discussed.

Mr. Nockels adds that Fitzpatrick himself may not be aware of his candidacy, but that is unimportant. With Fitzpatrick and his Chicago group, guiding the policies of the federation, the American labor movement would at once take its place with that of England as an aggressive agency for advancing the cause of democracy on both the economic and political fields.

Not so definite, but no less interesting, is the rumor that Senator Gompers has confided to his close friends that he will not run again next year.

Opposition Seen

Gompers' retirement would not, however, mean that Fitzpatrick could succeed to the presidency without a struggle. Until recently, there was much fruitless discussion as to who among the Gompers men could wear his mantle. But within the past year two or three of the younger men among the reactionaries have emerged. Perhaps the most conspicuous of these is Mathew Woll, of Chicago, president of the Photo-Engravers union, a small but well-organized organization that completely controls its field.

At the Atlantic City convention Mr. Woll was exceedingly active in support of Gompers' policies, and at the close of the convention was elected a vice-president of the federation, so that he now is a member of the executive council. Mr. Woll is a well-dressed, good-looking man, more of the business type than of labor, slightly below medium height and dark complexioned. He is a facile, clever writer and speaker and very engaging in conversation. He is one of those successful labor officials who impress one as being very well pleased with the state of the nation and their own place in the scheme of things, and too good a fellow to have much sympathy with the sort of men they would condemn as "nuts, knockers or hair-brained idealists."

The war has produced a big crop of American labor leaders of this type. They have sat on government boards, enjoying large per diems and expense accounts and hobnobbing with millionaire employers, on whom they have made the most favorable impression as reasonable men. They have traveled on missions to Europe, under government auspices, and have engaged kings and premiers in amiable conversation. They have been docile agents of the governing caste that has brought the world where it is today.

These so-called labor men "realize there is something to be said on the employers' side" and that the great men of the earth are looking to them to handle the labor situation in such a way as will not unduly embarrass our rulers in their attempt to maintain the established order.

To Be Heard From

This type of labor man is destined to be very common during the next generation, and already is recognized by newspapers like the New York Times and capitalists like Charles M. Schwab as one of their most valuable assets.

Behind the Gompers candidate will be all the power of the intricate and smoothly-running political machine that now governs the American labor movement with a rule of iron. Behind Fitzpatrick will be the more progressive unions who believe that labor should not only prosecute its work with more zeal on the industrial field, particularly in the matter of welcoming unskilled and foreign-born workers, but that it should also make its will prevail upon the political field, with relation to all the big economic questions and to international policies.

While Fitzpatrick and his supporters are not Socialists, they are convinced that fundamental economic changes must be brought about if we are to do away with unearned incomes and give to the average man the degree of well-being that should be his. They are not doctrinaires in advancing panaceas, but on the other hand they are not afraid of drastic remedies when these remedies are clearly recognized as the only practical solutions for prevailing injustices.

Downed Radicals

Under Gompers' leadership the American Federation of Labor very generally rebuffed efforts at co-operation on the part of liberal and radical groups and individuals. This is in striking contrast with the close association of federation leaders with certain capitalists and reactionary hangers-on, like Ralph Easley, of the National Civic federation, who has been as virulent and abusive toward leading American liberals as the most excited member of the American Defence Society. Easley has the confidence of the Gompers group and has carried on his campaign of abuse through an organization of which Mr. Gompers is chairman, the American Alliance of Labor and Democracy.

Would Be Good Leader

While under Gompers the American Federation of Labor has put no effective obstacle in the path of such movements as intervention in Russia and the sales to private interests of our new merchant marine, under Fitzpatrick the federation would make its voice heard in compelling tone when such policies were under discussion. So much can safely be said from even a superficial knowledge of the stand taken by the Chicago Federation of Labor on public questions.

Fitzpatrick's recent letter, repudiating an article by the writer which criticized Mr. Gompers and contrasted his policies with those of the Chicago group, and praising Mr. Gompers and his "work for humanity" in Europe has been explained as by no means expressing the point of view or sentiment of the Chicago group. The writer has it as authoritative as may be that the situation was such that Fitzpatrick and his assistant, William Z. Foster, actually had reason to fear that the Gompers machine would interfere with and retard the success of the organizing campaign in the steel industry unless Fitzpatrick came through with such a letter.

Engineered Steel Job

It happened that Foster was in Washington at the time for the purpose of making another effort to get a more satisfactory co-operation from the executive council, and the appearance of the article in question threw him into dismay because he well knew the effect it would have on the attitude of the federation leaders toward the all-important project upon which he and Fitzpatrick were engaged. He therefore telegraphed and arranged for the

MONEY BILLS FEATURE IN LEGISLATURE

Of 700 Measures Passed, 120 Were for Direct Appropriations

Of the 700 bills passed by the legislature during the 1919 session which closed last week after 29 weeks, 120 were appropriation measures, while many of the others carried appropriations in one form or another.

Second in volume came the bills affecting the various courts in the state, there being 65 measures pertaining to courts. Milwaukee city and county fared as well as usual, 55 measures pertaining especially to Milwaukee have become laws, although about 200 Milwaukee bills were introduced. Most of these killed were socialist measures which the farmer members would not stand for, although several Milwaukee bills were passed only to be vetoed by Gov. Philipp.

Forty-seven new laws were passed relating in one form or another to municipalities, while 46 pertain to schools and education. Taxation and taxes came next with 29, highways and bridges 23, the revisor of statutes had 22, insurance 17, fish and game 17, health 17, counties 15, elections and nominations 13, public utilities 13, towns 13, labor and employment 13, agriculture 10, soldiers 9, penal 8, dairy and food 7, corporations 7, National Guard 7, printing 6, civil service 5, widows and dependent children 5, war funds 4, parks 4, trust and co-operative associations 4, automobiles 4, waterways 4, workmen's compensation 4, teachers 3, housing 3, live stock 3, banks 3, flags 3, tuberculosis sanatoriums 3, drainage 3, building and loan associations 3.

Two laws were passed repealing two other ones passed earlier in the session. Two were passed providing for referendum votes of the people, two excise measures, two laws relating to vital statistics, two relating to villages, the Board of Control, marriages, lumber and logs were passed.

Among the most important of the single bills relating to a subject were those creating the division of markets in the department of agriculture, the board of conciliation, real estate board, state humane agent, abolishing the council of defense, providing for a general dog license, Sundry observance. Scores of other special bills were passed to care for particular situations which have arisen in various parts of the state.

SUBMARINE SUNK.

LONDON—A bolshevik submarine was sunk in the Baltic sea by British torpedo boat destroyers.

Along with the federation of the Fitzpatrick letter in question. The obtaining of this letter and its widespread circulation through the Gompers-Easley press service mollified the Gompers leaders so that at Atlantic City the conventions placed Fitzpatrick in charge, not only actually but nominally, of organizing the steel industry. Mr. Gompers had theretofore been nominally chairman of the work, though the work had been organized by Messrs. Fitzpatrick, Nockels and Foster and they had been the driving power behind it.

Voice of the People

SAYS KEEP COOL

To the Editor of The Capital Times: While everybody is taking a hand in abusing "profiteers" they seem to forget what a measly little thing each of those dollars has become.

A man could invest $1,000 in groceries or dry goods, and make say 30 per cent above cost, clerk hire, etc., without becoming a menace to the community (before 1914, I mean), and nobody kicked.

His profit at 30 per cent was $300, with which to pay taxes and other expenses and leave him a small margin of gain (perhaps).

The same stock today requires an investment of at least $2,000 (in some lines $3,000), and his other expenses have more than doubled. Thirty per cent on $2,000 gives him $600, and so we cry out against his profiteering. "Just see! Making double he did before the war! Stealing the bread out of our mouths! Piling up money wrong from his customers!"

But hold on boys. The purchasing power of his dollars is no greater than that of our dollars. When he goes out to buy goods again, or to invest in property, or to use money in any way (except to pay debts), his dollars are worth less than half they were in 1914, and not one-tenth their value in 1893-96 when the cost of a sack of flour was 80 cents and a day's labor $1.00 or less. (Sixteen hours at that, on the farm.)

Reducing the volume of currency would lower prices as it did when greenbacks were withdrawn, as when silver was demonetized, and as in 1893 Wall street produced a stringency in money markets to compel another issue of government bonds.

In each instance where Uncle Sam, or Wall street bankers have cut out the circulating medium called money, wide spread bankruptcy has followed, and labor has been unemployed, poorly paid, and unable to pay the very low cost of food and clothing with followed, while bankruptcy became the lot of honest debtors. It is a sure, but dangerous remedy for H. C. O. L.

Now instead of abusing the men to whom we pay money, let us grin and chuckle over the fact that the dollars we pay them are worth less than half their face. It is really a joke on him when we pass over a fifty cent dollar to the merchant. Let the poor simp think he is getting a dollar. We know better. "It is to laugh," instead of to sweat.

Think it over.

M. P. WHEELER.

Dinner Stories

It was one of the days near the end of June, and young Bill, having to sustain a reputation as one of San Francisco's best "town painters," had had a hard night. He looked it when, at 9 o'clock in the morning, he wandered into the hotel dining room to keep an appointment with a friend, who was just then at breakfast.

"Hell, Jack," Bill murmured, yawning. It appeared as if every syllable cost him untold effort. He sat down and rubbed his eyes with his fists. He bit his lips to keep from yawning again.

"Had breakfast?" Jack inquired. "No," the other replied. "Don't want any."

"Well," Jack insisted, "have a cup of coffee anyway."

Bill yawned again in spite of himself. "Don't want any coffee," he said. "It would keep me awake all day."

The seventh grade was having its first lesson on personal pronouns and the teacher had drilled earnestly on the relation of the speaker, person spoken to, etc. Then she asked William to give the person of several pronouns. He got along splendidly until he came to the pronoun "who," and then he hesitated. "Look at its antecedent—mother—that governs the person," explained
